

Our Services

Career Planning: Discuss reasonable short/long-term employment goals and current and projected position earnings based on the current minimum wage rate.

Job-Specific Supports and Career Services: Including, but not limited to, career counseling, job search and job placement assistance, benefits counseling, job application completion, resume writing, and interview skills. Once you are employed, we can help you maintain employment, find another job if you'd like, or find options to increase your earnings.

Ongoing Case Management: Throughout your work plan, we will spend time virtually, by phone, or in person discussing resources to assist you with becoming employable, obtaining employment, maintaining employment, and finding ways to increase your income.

Social Security Objective Management: Social Security reviews your progress regularly to determine if you are meeting those goals. Timely Progress Reviews consider your work, earnings, and any training or education you've received to help you find and maintain employment.

Employment Network Services

TREN's Social Security Ticket to Work (Ticket) program serves individuals who desire to work from 18 to 64 years old. The program will assist individuals with disabilities in achieving their employment status goals. In addition, the program will allow individuals with disabilities to increase their financial independence and less dependence on Social Security disability benefits. The service for this program is free and voluntary.

The Ticket program will allow you to work with a service provider who will discuss your employment goals and the support services you need to succeed in your employment search.

You, along with your provider, will develop an agreement referred to as an Individual Work Plan (IWP). This agreement will detail specific employment services and supports to assist you with becoming financially independent.

"TREN offers services for individuals with disabilities, incarceration, or those interested in re-entering the workforce to find gainful, long-term, and fulfilling employment. We pride ourselves in providing ongoing support, coaching, and services to ensure short and long-term success. There's nothing more life-changing than meaningful employment, and we are humbled by the countless success stories our organization has helped to begin."
